

FIN599 Finance Applied Project

Level: 5

Credit Units: 10 Credit Units

Language: ENGLISH

Presentation Pattern: EVERY SEMESTER

Synopsis:

FIN599 Finance Applied Project enables graduate students to conduct a practice-oriented project to address real world issues in financial areas. The course requires students to put together knowledge and skills from various courses in the programme. The project should be carried out in a practical learning environment and lead to findings, recommendations and/or products that are relevant to finance industry.

Students are expected to work closely with their supervisors to craft a suitable project topic and carry out the project individually. The project topic has to be related to finance.

Topics:

- Introduction and the nature of applied project
- Topics formulation
- Ethical issues in research and/or applied project design
- Measurement, validity, and reliability
- Literature review
- Project design
- Project proposal writing
- Statistical methods and software
- Data collection
- Analysis and recommendations
- Application development
- Project report writing

Textbooks:

: Business Research Methods, Cengage (e-Text)

ISBN-13: 9789814773171

Learning Outcome:

- Formulate clear questions for applied projects that address real-world problems
- Evaluate the relevance, value and sufficiency of existing literature and solutions
- Construct the project design
- Assemble information and data from relevant sources and knowledge domains
- Analyse the data using appropriate techniques and assess the findings, make recommendations where suitable
- Develop and implement solution in various forms, including apps and/or dapps (decentralised applications)
- Compose the project proposal and final report
- Design, develop and implement solutions to address real-world issues

Assessment Strategies (Evening Class):

Components	Description	Weightage Allocation (%)
Overall Continuous Assessment	PROJECT PROPOSAL 1	25
Overall Examinable Components	PROJECT DEVELOPMENT	25
	FINAL REPORT	50
Total		100